THE DENOUEMENT COMES EARLY BUT IS COMPLETE

When the council undertook to discharge Mr. Bouillon, the Journal rose up on its hind legs and declared in frothy fury that with the commissioner ejected from the city hall, the city would be turned over to the franchise-grabbers—that the commissioner was the only protection the citizens had from a band of privilege-seekers who would tie the city up to agreements which would violate every principle of municipal ownership.

By adopting the role of protector of the citizens' interests and announcing itself as the simon pure apostle of municipal ownership, the Journal gave the public a startling surprise, all its previous activities having been on the side of the franchise hunters. It was with some astonishment that the public learned that this same Journal which had boosted for the Brunel agreement, had worked twice for the International agreement, had helped along the agitation for the natural gas agreement of three years ago, and even in the early times had worked in favor of the Inglis street railway franchise, had become so suddenly alarmed lest the city might lose the protection from the franchise hunters which Mr. Bouillon afforded it.

Nevertheless, the bluff went with a large section of the ratepayers.

Yesterday, however, the International Heating and Lighting company, which has already once failed to fill on a franchise granted it by the city, and which has twice been refused a franchise, came before the commissioners again with a repetition of its request for a franchise to sell gas in the city at the rate of $1.62 per thousand cubic feet.

Here is, in part, the Journal's own account of the stand which Mr. Bouillon takes on this, the first franchise question that comes up since the Journal adopted the role of protector of the city and declared against the discharge of Mr. Bouillon for fear the city would be separated from its franchises:

C. S. Eaton, who is the local representative of the company, was present, and Commissioner Bouillon said to him: "The assurance we want is that your company will become a bona fide investor in the city. We want gas and we want it as soon as we can get it. I would not recommend that the city undertake the construction and operation of a gas plant. I think it would be much more satisfactory to enter into an agreement with a private corporation. If I were dealing with you in my own private interests, I would want to know how much you would be willing to invest; the date at which you would be able to deliver gas, and then we could discuss the detailed terms of a contract of this character."

"When an agreement was reached, I would ask you to put up a sufficient guarantee to give me positive assurance that you would carry out the terms of the contract negotiated."

"Those are lines on which we could do business, Mr. Eaton."

The denouement comes a little earlier than might have been expected, but it could not have been more complete. According to the Journal's news story, Commissioner Bouillon is not, as the Journal has been trying to represent, in favor of municipal ownership, but is anxious to sign an agreement at once tying the city up to a thirty-year franchise with the very first applicant for a franchise who comes before the commissioners. Commissioner Bouillon does not even pause to ask whether the citizens would like to vote on a bylaw for a civic plant, but rushes at once to outline the proposition which he would accept if submitted by the company.

The whole thing is altogether too plain and too crude to deceive even the most careless ratepayer. The Journal upholding Commissioner Bouillon as the savior of the city's interests one week and Mr. Bouillon held in office by an injunction of the supreme court, trying to make a deal with the franchise hunters the next, is so apparent a piece of double-dealing as to be obvious to anyone who is in possession of his ordinary faculties and who is not too blind or too illiterate to read.

As Abraham Lincoln says: "You cannot fool all the people all the time." The Journal should get out candidly behind the franchise hunters and declare itself against the whole principle of municipal ownership, or it should abandon the hope of being an influence with the ratepayers which it insults by attempting to fool with the most transparent misrepresentation and chicanery.

GREATEST YEAR FOR RAILROADING IN THE WEST

The greatest year of railroading which the west has ever seen and probably the greatest year which any country has ever seen, is just about to open in the prairie provinces of Canada.

With a programme calling for fourteen millions for branch lines during the year, and nearly twenty millions for improvement of the main line, the Canadian Pacific easily leads all the rest, and when this year's programme is completed, the Canadian west will have one of the finest railways in the world. The Canadian Northern, with twelve millions to spend on extensions and betterments, promises to become a model road in the near future, and the Grand Trunk is being constructed on lines superior to that of any other pioneer road ever built in the west.

It is a favorite epigram with the political economists that civilization is a matter of transportation. If this theory is correct, then Western Canada should almost immediately become one of the most civilized and prosperous countries in the world, and when, in conjunction with this development, it is considered that there are one hundred million acres of land in the country to the north and west of Edmonton to be given away to the settler absolutely free, this country should furnish a magnetism sufficient to attract every homeless home-builder in the world.

Mexico resents interference from United States, which is another way the greaser has of saying he does not relish being lariat and hog tied by Uncle Sam just because the smelter trust needs the territory.

"THIS IS MY BIRTHDAY"

William English Walling.

William English Walling, the wealthy young socialist who recently featured conspicuously in the news as defendant in a $100,000 breach of promise suit, was born in Louisville, Ky., March 14, 1847. He is a grandson of William H. English of Indiana, who was candidate for Vice-President of the United States in the Democratic convention in 1860.

He received his early education in the public schools of Louisville and in Edinburgh, Scotland, where his father served as United States consul for several years. Walling, who has since pursued his studies at the University of Chicago, where he took a postgraduate course in economics and sociology. In 1900 he was appointed a factory inspector in Illinois, which position he resigned a year later to engage in settlement work in New York. For the past ten years Mr. Walling has been a resident at the University settlement in the metropolitan district of New York, where he has become well known as a writer and lecturer on labor and sociological questions.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Abilene, Kansas, has adopted the commission form of government.

Texas will vote in July on the constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The West Virginia legislature will meet in special session next month to consider a primary election law.

Frederick C. Macdonald, secretary of State of Michigan, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor next year.

Republican leaders in Kansas are hopeful that President Taft's visit to the state next fall will aid in restoring harmony among the rival factions.

Ex-Speaker Cannon, who is to take his seat on the "opposition benches" at the next session has thirty-six years' service in the House to his credit.

Hernando De Soto, Mayor of Mississippi, who has just retired from the United States senate, served in Congress longer than any other man from Mississippi.

Robert T. Williams, associate justice of the Oklahoma supreme court, will be a candidate for the seat of United States Senator Owen, when the latter's term expires in 1913.

Although the legislature of Nevada is Democratic on joint roll, Senator Nixon, Republican, was unanimously elected, because he received a majority of the votes cast at the advisory primary.

The special session which will begin April 4 will be an altogether new Congress, the sixty-second, of whose members 141, 19 senators and 122 representatives, will be new to their places.

Henry L. Meyers, the new United States senator from Montana, is forty-one years old and a native of Missouri. He worked on his father's farm, taught school, became a newspaper man and finally a lawyer.

Luke Lea, the new United States Senator from Tennessee, is a grandson of the late Col. Luke Lea, a distinguished soldier and member of Congress. Senator Lea is a Democrat of the progressive type and it is expected he will also align himself in the Senate with the progressive wing.

The National Democratic Achievement banquet, which is to be held in Indianapolis next month, will have as its speakers William J. Bryan of Nebraska, Governor Wilson of New Jersey, Governor Fox of Massachusetts, Governor Burke of North Dakota, Governor Marshall of Indiana and former Governor Folk of Missouri.

Former Congressman Henry S. Boutell, who has been nominated by President Taft to be United States minister to Portugal, is a member of the Republican congressional nomination in the Ninth Illinois district as the primary last fall. Mr. Boutell was one of the staunch supporters of Speaker Cannon in the Lower House.

Professor Charles Edward Merriam, the Republican nominee for mayor of Chicago, was born in Iowa in 1874. After receiving degrees at the State University of Iowa and Columbia University, he spent two years in Berlin and Paris. In 1900 he joined the faculty of the University of Chicago and has been there ever since in the department of political science.

Mr. Frank Oliver's explanatory speech was interlarded with speeches of opposition members and requests for more information. The whole question was canvassed completely for the first time in a friendly spirit, the chief critic being Mr. Uriah Wilson, of London, who asserted that too much money was being spent by the department for the results secured.

The minister went into little detail on general immigration. Mr. Oliver began with a general statement. For the last months of the present fiscal year immigration was 20,000, which was a record for the 12 months of the previous year was 20,874. So far this year, British immigration is 10,000, and American 10,000.

Mr. Bissett and family came to be highly respected as a citizen, his death being generally regretted. Mr. Bissett is survived by his widow and seven young children, all but two of whom reside in Strathcona or near by districts. The five sons are Robert, Stephen, Frank, Dan, and Alford. The daughters are Mrs. N. T. James, now of Silverton, B. C., and Mrs. Peterson of this city. Dan Bissett is at present in Toronto. complaint as to their ability to secure employment.

Mr. Oliver emphasized the point that it was absolutely contrary to the policy of the government to pay for or to give assistance to people desiring to come to Canada, as is done by Australia and other colonies. This policy is one of advertising. In the United States, 17 agencies are maintained, but the policy is essentially one of advertising in newspapers.

When the minister was explaining that sixty-five land guides are attached to land offices in the west to assist settlers in locating, Dr. Schaffner asked if there had been complaints of some of these agents demanding a fee before they would show the settlers the best lands.

Mr. Oliver said it was not unlikely such complaints would reach him as minister of agriculture. The department had heard of such charges the guilty parties would be dismissed instantly.

Mr. Alex Hignett, of Winnipeg, interrupted to make reference to the complaint of E. F. Hattelund, to the effect that he had been unable to bring workmen from the old country because of the provisions that the arrivals must have $25.

Mr. Oliver said that there is nothing in the regulations to prevent a business man providing people whom he desires to bring to Canada with necessary funds. The department, he said, objected to money being given to immigrants at the port of arrival because of the possibility of fraud.

The "repeatedly debate will be continued on Tuesday."

POSING AS CHILDLESS WIDOW MOTHER POISONED BABY BOY

MRS. EDITH MELBER ON TRIAL FOR MURDER AT ALBANY—CLEARING UP THE HORRIBLE BOG TRAGEDY

Albany, N. Y., March 11.—With two women crowding the court room, the trial of Mrs. Edith Melber, accused of murdering her five-year-old son, George, by giving him carbolic acid while he was pleading for a drink of water, was called before Judge Hoy and in the Criminal Court today.

The woman, who after poisoning her boy left his body in a box on the outskirts of Albany, has prepared a defense of "unsanity," contending that because of her rearing and hardships in after life she is not legally responsible for the death of her child.

Killed Child to Marry Again
The State will try to prove that Mrs. Melber killed her child that she might be free to marry again, her husband being dead. The State subpoenaed a number of witnesses to show that Mrs. Melber had posed as a childless widow, to a young Schenectady druggist with whom she was in love.

Other witnesses, among them relatives of her late husband, will tell of the defendant's life in Schenectady and other New York state cities after her husband's death.

No Sign of Fear
On account of the manner in which the child was killed, as detailed in Mrs. Melber's own confession, it was anticipated that great difficulty would be experienced in securing an unbiased jury.

At the jail it was said this morning that the woman showed no signs of fear or anxiety even in the possibility of the electric chair hanging before her. She ate a hearty breakfast.

Bill Would Put Stop to Blild Pig Operations
Washington, March 11.—News that the Supreme Court of Georgia had declared valid an act of the state legislature prohibiting manufacture of alcohol, has given a fresh impetus to the advocates of the bill introduced in the house by Representative Robert L. Lively, of Tennessee, to amend the statute under which the commissioner of internal revenue through collectors of internal revenue, issue special licenses for the wholesale and retail sale of liquors. The Lively Liquor Bill, which is now before the Ways and Means Committee, is endorsed by the temperance people throughout the United States, and, during the past few months, members of Congress have received thousands of letters and petitions from temperance societies in every state in the union, urging the passage of the bill, which, they assert, will solve the temperance question.

Efforts Thwarted.
For many years advocates of prohibition have had their efforts thwarted by existing laws of the government. Many states have prohibition laws, others known as local option. But in no state has a prohibition law been uniformly successful, because of the fact that the federal government, through a collector of internal revenue will issue a federal writ to sell liquor anywhere. The records show in states where prohibition prevails the arrest of many offenders, but the offenders manage to escape imprisonment by paying a small fine. The Lively bill would, it is believed, effectually put a stop to "boot-legalizing," "blind licen," "speakeasies," and "roxy corners." A man who takes the risk of selling liquor in forbidden territory without a federal permit, if caught, would be tried in the federal court, instead of in the state or local court. No man who violates the prohibition law of his country would care to run the fast and declared that she was ready to go to trial any time.

Face Was Horribly Burned
On the afternoon of January 13, the body of the child was found almost concealed in a clump of tall reeds, by a hunter, who was following his dogs across a stretch of frozen swamp land on the outskirts of Albany. The boy's face had been horribly burned by poison. Two days after the discovery of the body, George Melber, of Schenectady, a blacksmith, identified the body as that of his grandson, George Melber, whom he had thought safe in an orphan's asylum.

Refused to Admit the Child
The same afternoon, as a prepossessing young woman stepped up to claim a trunk on the depot platform at Rochester, she was arrested charged with the murder. At first she brazenly denied her identity, but later broke down and confessed the killing. She declared that she was ordered to take the boy from the Schenectady orphan asylum because she could not pay his board, and that she came to Albany to put him in an institution here. Although refused, she said, and she purchased some candy and the acid at a drug store.

"Not guilty," was Mrs. Melber's plea in firm tones, when called upon to answer to the indictment charging that she poisoned her five-year-old son.

At the work of getting a jury was immediately begun. Several gentlemen were excused because of objections to capital punishment for women.

MATRIMONY IS COMMERCIALIZED

Ladies Object to Method of Advertising for Wives for Western Canadians.

Montreal, Mar. 14.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Irish League are opposed to the Canadian Northern Railway advertising throughout Great Britain for wives for the farmers of the Canadian Northwest, and owing to the ignorance that prevails as to the real conditions throughout the west, have passed the following resolution:

First: That we the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Irish League call the attention of the women of Canada and Great Britain to a practice which if persisted in may cause untold misery and suffering to countless numbers. The demand for wives is not so great throughout the West that it is necessary to resort to this degrading method which tends to commercialize matrimony. It is not only degrading to our womanhood, but it is an insult to the intelligence of the Canadian people.

Second: That we call upon the women of this city and throughout the Dominion irrespective of race or creed to raise and protect womanhood.

Third: That copies of the resolution be sent to the press, to leaders of both parties at Ottawa, to the British Nationalist leader and Labor leader, and to the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CURRENTS

In electric lighting a current of 110 volts is common, but the tension is much increased when electric current is transmitted to a distance. In Great Britain the notable example of high pressure is found on the overhead lines of the north-east coast power supply, which transmit power at 20,000 volts.

On the European continent a higher extreme is reached, and one or two Italian installations run up to 80,000 volts. It is in America, however, where water-power is so much employed, that high tension transmission has reached its earliest development. Systems using 30,000 or 100,000 volts are fairly common in the United States, Canada and Mexico, the line from Niagara to Syracuse employs 60,000 volts, and there are seven systems in the United States and one in Canada using 100,000 volts or higher. A pressure of 200,000 volts is now thought to be practicable, 110,000 volts being reached on the line of the Muskegon Grand Rapids Power Company. Through the aid of high tension, current is now transmitted to distances long thought to be impossible—260 miles by the Washington Water Power Co. of Spokane, 175 miles by the Great Western Power Co. of California, and of the north-east coast power supply, 142 miles by the Mexican Light and Power Co.

The Utah experiments of the last two seasons show that sugar beets should have the highest possible amount of light. One portion of a row of beets was covered with white burlap; a second, with two thicknesses; a third, with three thicknesses; and a fourth portion was left uncovered. Though some heat was cut off, the effect of the covering was chiefly a lessening of the light. The beets averaged 27 3/4 to 1 3/4 ounces, and the sugar varied from 3.8 to 0.45 ounces—25 times as much sugar in the full light as in the most shaded portion.

Solid particles in the breath—some resembling bacteria—have been discovered with the aid of the ultra-microscope. The exhalations from the lungs have been hitherto regarded as purely gaseous—oxygen, nitrogen, carbon dioxide, water vapor, etc.

DEACONS MAY MAKE A RECORD

IF CALGARY COMES HERE, TEAM WILL PLAY FOUR MATCHES
IN FOUR DAYS

The Deacons are in line this week to establish a wonderful record in the world of hockey. The seven brave young athletes who have battled so nobly this winter may be called upon to participate in four matches in four days.

The Deacons will play Tofield tonight at the Thistle rink. On Wednesday will come the game at Strathcona with Varsity, and then there are the very probable games with the Calgary Athletic Club seven on Thursday and Friday nights. And in addition to this, if Calgary comes to Edmonton, the Deacons on Friday afternoon will play an exhibition game at the Excelsior rink so that moving pictures can be made.

That four games in four successive nights is a record is the statement of that master handler of players, Manager and Trainer Anse Young, of the Deacons.

"I have heard of teams playing four games in five nights, but the prospective feat of the Deacons is the most wonderful I know of," stated Mr. Young to the sporting editor of The Capital.

The match with Tofield to-night is expected to be a tough one. The Tofield boys feel they are every bit as fast as the Deacons, the only thing they will acknowledge being that Edmonton favorites may be the better stick handlers. The Tofield boys have been printing themselves for the event and it's a safe bet they come here prepared to do or die. And when such a spirit prevails in a hockey match, there is sure to be plenty to interest the spectators.

OTTAWA WINS FROM GALT.

Ottawa, March 14. — The Ottawa hockey team disposed of Galt, champions of the Ontario Hockey League, in the Stanley cup match at the Arena last night by seven to four. Ottawa held the visitors without a tally and opened the second session 4 to 0. Then the defenders appeared to ease up and Beaulieu begged two for Galt, one which Burleigh was off and another when Walsh was with the timers. Ottawa held by 4 to 2 when the last period began.

When the police stepped in and prevented the Jack (Tom) Sullivan-Jack O'Keefe bout at Denver, the one thousand and more spectators made a bee line for the box office to ask for their money back but it was found that the cashier had skidded with the money.

SKATING CHAMPION LAMMY SIGNS
UP WITH MARSHFIELD TEAM
IN OHIO LEAGUE

Saranac Lake, N.Y., Mar. 14.—The latest addition to baseball is Edmund Lammy, national amateur skating champion at all distances. He has signed up with the Marshfield team, of the Ohio State League. He said the fact that he is under suspension by the International Skating Union has no bearing on his debut in professional sports.

Little Tommy McMillan, the Cincinnati shortstop, has been released to Rochester.

TWO SIGN WITH THE SEATTLE

FRED CHICK AND JACK BRENNAN
REPORTED TO HAVE TANGLED
THEMSELVES UP

If the report which reached Edmonton yesterday is correct, and there is no cause to doubt but what it is, Fred Chick, third baseman with Lethbridge last year, and Jack Brennan, who played with Edmonton, have gotten themselves in bad through signing contracts to play in 1912 with the Seattle club in the Northwestern League. The latest bulletin of J. H. Farrell, of the National Association, gives out the announcement that Chick and Brennan both signed with Duquaine's club. It took time for the Seattle club's report to reach Auburn, N.Y., from the Coast and the bulletin is under date of March 2nd, so that Chick must have signed a while before he was yet the property of Lethbridge and that city had not been dropped from the club. Brennan has been under reserve to Edmonton right along and his contract was mailed him some ten days ago along with the others.

United Manager White gives Brennan his release, he will have to play here if he plays at all. Brennan has made himself subject to a fine or suspension, at the discretion of Manager White. Chick's case is one that will be up to President Eckstrom and the National Commission.

CALGARY SHOWING UP GREAT

BOWLERS MAKE GOOD IMPRESSION IN PRACTICE GAMES AT THE SPokane TOURNEY

(Special to The Capital.)
Spokane, Wash., Mar. 14.—This is a great day for the Western Bowling Congress. At noon to-day, the grand parade of one hundred automobiles and 800 bowlers, headed by a military band, took place and was witnessed by more than 25,000 people strewn about the principal streets. It was the big feature and really meant the opening in earnest of the most important assembly of bowlers in the west.

Arrangements were completed this afternoon for a large delegation to be on hand when the Edmonton bowling squad reaches here to-night and the reception will be a big affair.

Calgary Looks Strong.

Calgary bowlers got right into the thick of it soon after reaching Spokane yesterday. The team engaged in practice with local bowlers and made a showing that brought them much favorable comment. The boys are in excellent trim and are conceded to have an excellent chance for the $1,500 trophy to be awarded to the winning five-men team.

The Medicine Hat quintet scored big in the practice games. Other Canadian arrivals were the New Westminster and Vancouver teams from British Columbia. Portland, Ore., has $2,500.00 on the ground to capture the Congress for 1912. Los Angeles is the other contender.

Seattle in the Lead.

The Seattle Athletic Club leads to-day with 2,644 pins. The B. & M. Tangles, of Spokane, are second with 2,641 pins. The former mark is not believed strong enough by any means to capture the big cash prize. There are scores of teams which are expected to surpass this showing.

WANT CHANGE OF DATES.

The St. Mary's team of Calgary finds itself cramped and the trustees are to be asked to change the dates for the Allan Cup to next fall.

BASEBALL CHIPS RIGHT OFF THE BAT

When Manager Deacon White starts the season, he will have on the payroll thirteen men. And the team starts training on the thirteenth of April, and thirteen fans from Edmonton declare they will accompany the team.

"Isn't that an awful bunch of junk for fellows who are supposed to be such? Ye gods and little sour apples but there's cause for apprehension."

Bill Lussi is so superstitious it's a cinch if he finds this out he will make it a point to miss the train and hoof it to Lewiston.

"There was a time when I was a superstitious man, but no more," declares Deacon White. "The only thing I am superstitious of is of wet grounds in Calgary. This gets my goat every time."

With the beautiful weather yesterday afternoon, the hotel buildings were for fans, congregating in resorts for sportsmen and holding good old fanning bees.

Forty-nine more days before His Ump's will give out that familiar command "Play Ball." Wish Father Time could manage to make the days shorter so we could get by by bounds.

According to coast reports, Danny Shea is ill and the Seattle club finds

EASY FOR WANDERERS

The Wanderers had a cinch from the start in the basketball game with Varsity in the Big Three League last night at the Y.M.C.A., and won by the score of 53 to 38. Despite the heavy score, the good crowd never wavered in its interest, the brilliant playing and shooting of the Wanderers being pretty to watch. Cornsack and Dave played particularly good ball.

The result last night practically ends the Varsity season of the running in the league. It's only chance would be to score victories against both the Dorn and the Wanderers and for the latter team to defeat the Dorn. Should this come through, it would make a three-cornered tie.

NICK BURLEY DROPS DEAD AT SEATTLE

FIGHTER VERY WELL KNOWN IN EDMONTON AND CALGARY
EXPIRES ON STREETS

Edmonton lovers of the game of fisticles will be grieved to learn of the death at Seattle of Nick Burley, one of the best known Pacific Coast boxers and who had a wide acquaintance in Edmonton and Calgary, having visited both cities on several occasions in recent years. Burley's end was tragic. He had been in poor health but a day or two and had gone for a stroll when he dropped to the street and expired before medical aid could reach him.

The son a well-to-do San Jose, Cal., merchant, Burley first took to the ring as an amateur.

He made a brilliant success at the game and went to Portland where he took up the professional game. He shipped Tom Costello in a hurry and then disposed of Dan Godfrey, a big negro. In 1899, Burley went to Alaska where he became known as the "champion of the Yukon."

At Dawson, he fought two goes with Joe Gonsky, winning one and losing the other.

TO BOOST THE PAY OF STARS

THE SALARY LIMIT OF NATIONAL HOCKEY ASSOCIATION TO BE RAISED NEXT YEAR

There seems little doubt but that the National Hockey Association will raise its salary limit before next year. The present $5,000 clause being more or less a face in view of the fact that all but one or two of the teams have already exceeded that figure. Wanderers admit their breach of the rules, Canadiens and Montreal refusing to be drawn into the subject, while Quebec and Ottawa look to be holding near the line.

The National Hockey Association has drawn bigger crowds this year than ever before, and with the teams playing better hockey, the double schedule ought to let the players better returns. It is proposed to boost the figure to $8,000, with the privilege of giving an extra bonus to the winning team of $2,000. The Stanley cup games will bring in this amount. It is feared, while with any kind of a fight the leaders might find it necessary to say of the honours.

"A big international circuit may be whipped into shape before next winter, New York, Toronto and Boston being taken into the National Association. The American teams would want to boost the price, and the Canadian teams would have to follow suit. Of course it is hard to guess what will be done in a year's time, but this is the hope that has been handed down from one of the biggest hockey magnates in the game."

losing the other. The end of Burley as a pugilist was six years ago when Billy Woods defeated him in Alaska in eight rounds.

Burley made barrels of money in Alaska but he failed to save and was not any the wiser.

When the boxing game was prosperous in this section, Woods came here to try and get for a scrap but was unsuccessful. He was extremely popular with former Alaskan men who had known him in his palmy days when money did not turn any holes in his pockets and he was at all times the soul of good fellowship.

There is such excellent material in the Hotel League that Tom Hookes, of the Alberta Hotel, is thinking seriously of introducing a notion at the next meeting to ask protection of the National Association of Minor Leagues so that a draft price can be established. It is feared there will be a wholesale grab of stars by baseball managers after the season gets under way and Hotel League players get to show their speed.

Umpires Bob Hart and Bill Bannan are playing roller polo with the Hartford, Conn. team.

Manager "Pop" Foster of the New Haven team has been engaged to coach the Yale freshmen squad.

The Oakland Pacific Coast League will not play any of its games this season. With the exception of Sunday mornings, Thursday afternoon, and mornings of holidays, all games scheduled for Oakland will be played in San Francisco.

The Boston Red Sox's trip to California has been somewhat of a jessie. Too much rain for football practice.

Frank Delehanly, the famous Cleveland outfielder, has signed with the St. Paul team of the American Association.

Dick Hartley, the former big leaguer, has been engaged to manage the Harverhill New England League team this season.

The Cubs' chance for the National League pennant will drop about four notches if Orville Overall stays in California.

Jimmy Murray, one of the outfielders signed by the St. Louis Browns, is a member of the Life-saving crew at Ormond Beach, Florida.

Harry Brad has been named to succeed Rutledge Zeider as captain of the Chicago White Sox. A year ago Harry was captain of the Boston Red Sox.

It is said that Pletcher "Babe" Adams of the Pirates is showing championship form this year. Adams was in poor shape during the greater part of last season.

Harvard Wins

YALE TEAM LOSES IN JUNIOR
SCHOOL BOYS' BASKETBALL
LEAGUE AT Y. M. C. A.

In one of the best matches played this season in the Junior School Boys' Basketball League at the Y.M.C.A., the Harvard team won from Yale yesterday afternoon by a score of 17 to 14. They were fast throughout and it was nip and tuck until the last few minutes. The teams were:

Yale—Taft, Davidson, George, Taylor and Margerson.

Harvard—Horn, Parney, Melnar, Crafts and Donald.

ARE CUPS AMATEURS OR PROS?

INVESTIGATION IS ON AS TO THE STATUS OF TROPHIES HELD
HERE FOR HOCKEY

A controversy between followers of professional and amateur hockey in Edmonton is as to whether the five trophies now held in this city, namely, the Brackman-Ker, the two Calgary Brewing Company cups, the Stevens' Challenge cup and the Second shield, are professional or amateur emblems, is causing here in this city and has not yet been decided.

Jim McKinnis is championing the cause of those who believe that these cups are really professional emblems, while Anse Young, manager of the Deacons, leads those who are convinced they were intended for amateur competition. McKinnis claims that Edmonton always was in the professional field. Young, on the other hand, claims this city never possessed professionalism in hockey until recent years.

"I. C. Griffiths, who used to be manager and trainer of the big hockey teams in the early hockey days, told me last year that all of the trophies held in Edmonton were for amateurs with the exception of the Fitz-Roy trophy," declares Young. "The claim is made, for instance, that the two Calgary Brewing Company cups are for professionals. These were donated in 1903 and 1904 and we all know there was no professional hockey at that time."

It is generally rumored about town that a strong movement is on foot to organize a professional hockey league in Alberta for the purpose of battling for the trophies now resting at the Liberal Club. But the amateurs want to get a chance at the silverware and it is to ascertain the status of the trophies that the present investigation has been instituted.

ASK CITY TO FORCE A BY-LAW

KENNEL CLUB TO REQUEST THAT REGULATIONS AS TO DOGS BE

A meeting of the Edmonton Kennel Club has been called for to-night at 8 o'clock at the Edmonton Exhibition Association's offices in the Johnson block. At this meeting, the matter of calling upon the city council to put through the by-law requested many weeks ago to regulate licensees for dogs and their promiscuous freedom about the city's streets, will be one of the important subjects up for discussion.

Several other matters of great interest to dog owners will be brought up and it is requested that a large attendance be on hand.

WITH THE BOXERS

Tom O'Rourke is soon to have the English fighter, Young Brooks, under his charge. Brooks is touted as the greatest featherweight since Terry McGovern.

Six weeks more of vaudeville and then John L. Sullivan will retire to his farm near Boston. John says that it is a genuine farewell this time.

The boxing game is a "was" in Newark, N.J. The death of a boy after participating in a prize bout at McGuffin's Club caused the police to lock the door and put up the shutters.

Bonus for Hockey Men

Ottawa sportsmen are determined to reward members of their champion hockey team for the good work of the season and as an extra bonus, the players will receive the entire gate receipts of the New York trip and will divide up the Stanley Cup receipts.

Two benefit games are also to be played of this week and these alone should reap the men about $3,000.00, it is expected.

SAYS ALBERTA HAS POOR LIQUOR LAWS

Dr. Shearer Discusses Temperance Legislation During Winnipeg Has Improved.

Calgary, March 14.—Dr. Shearer, the superintendent of social and moral reform work for the Presbyterian church of Canada, arrived in Calgary and will hold a conference in Knox church tomorrow. He will be representative of the Presbyteries and synods of the province of Alberta to consider matters pertaining to the social and moral reform movement in this province.

Dr. Shearer said that he considered Alberta the worst province in the country in regard to temperance legislation. He stated further that so far as temperance was concerned the betterment of the western provinces in this respect was very slow and much slower than those that had been in Saskatchewan; they had good laws controlling the liquor traffic.

In British Columbia they were not good, but in Alberta the legislation was of such a nature that the reform people had to have 60 per cent of the vote to carry anything and if they lost the deposit of $100 which the law compels them to put up.

Thinks Majority Favor It.

In regard to the sentiment of Alberta towards the reform movement for temperance, Dr. Shearer stated, that he thought the majority of the people would continue unchanged and in time things would be changed.

Dr. Shearer went on to talk of the social reform advancement in the west. He stated that he believed that even in Winnipeg, where he had made strong assertions regarding existing conditions, there was a change for the better.

In Saskatchewan there were strict laws to prevent social evil, and in Alberta there were also laws to prevent it. If these were properly enforced, there would not be a house of ill fame existing in the principal and respectable parts of the city.

When asked his opinions on the city's elections at Winnipeg last winter, he stated that they would not extend the moral movement to any great extent. He believed that Evans was an upright honest man, but the element behind him and the influences were not of the best.

The Reason Why.

Shearer stated further that the reason why the social and moral reform candidate was defeated was due to the element behind Evans, but personally he did not blame Evans himself.

PAY $1500 FOR AN OFFICE ON JASPER

Cost Oil Company That Amount to Secure Favorable Location on Main Street.

A deal which reflects the value of property in Edmonton in general and Jasper avenue in particular has just been consummated whereby F. Moxley and C. Johnson, proprietors of the Philadelphia Lunch counter, have just been paid $1,500.00 for their nine months' lease on their place of business. Quite near money to receive in excess of $150.00 a month to move to a new location when leases were facing the proposition of moving out anyway in December.

Determined to secure a location on Jasper avenue, George H. Blakney, general manager of the Edmonton office of the Edmonton and Fort McMurray Oil and Asphalt Company, did not decline as to cost. He fully realized that it would be a sum to pay for a short lease, especially in view of the fact that to make the place suitable for elegant offices will entail an additional expenditure of four or five hundred dollars. The property has a frontage of fifteen feet and such rent for more than $100.00 a month. So there you see fifteen hundred for a lease; $500.00 for alterations; and not less than $100.00 a month for rental. These nine hundred for nine months of fifteen feet of frontage on Jasper avenue. Fair money, eh?

NAVY DEFENDED IN BRITISH COMMONS

Navy Estimates for Year are Tabled—Speakers Oppose Nations Must Prepare for War.

London, March 14.—Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, leading the house of commons tonight in treating the navy estimates, made an important pronouncement on the government's policy.

Reginald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty, in defence of his estimates against attacks from certain quarters, explained that in 1911 Great Britain would have 30, and Germany 21 dreadnaughts—not, he said, an unreasonable number. The navy, he said, was not a British navy, he added, practically was governed by that of Germany and unless some change occurred in the German navy law, this year would be the last in which the British estimates would be in the British estimates.

Secretary Grey, affirming Mr. McKenna's assertion, emphasized the cordiality of Great Britain's foreign relations, and his earnest desire that nothing should disturb these friendships, especially with Germany. He then dealt with the difficulties to be encountered in the disarmament question, and pointed out that it was the most civilized nations that spent the most on armaments, asserting that the mischief was brought home to men's feelings as well as to their minds, the growth of armaments in the last ten years, civilization down.

The End of It.

Some thought, the secretary continued, that it would end in a revolution. He thought that likely it would end in international revolution.

Anyway, the rivalry would not be stopped by any single nation dropping out of the race. Although Great Britain had a strong navy, her army was small and an agreement with Germany needed careful handling.

He was hopeful, however, that something might be done to limit the limitation of armaments, he declared, must depend on nations learning, like individuals, to resort to law instead of the force of arms. He referred to President Taft's arbitration speech as bold, courageous and pregnant with consequences, and said: "Such a statement ought not to go without response. We should be delighted to have such a proposal made to us should feel that it was something so momentous and so far-reaching in its possible consequences that it would require not only the signature of both governments, but the deliberate and decided sanction of parliament. That I believe, would be given."

In the district court at Vermilion tomorrow morning, the following criminal cases will be tried:—Tex vs. Asp; Tex vs. Castor.

"We will have concrete mixers working on each bank of the river, pouring concrete into the excavations we are clearing, and we will also work from the centre.
